

Your architectural and engineering firm helps clients turn their dreams and goals into reality every day. Is anyone doing the same for your business?

Grassi's A&E professionals are dedicated to providing architects, engineers and other design professionals with the industry advice, financial strategies and forward-thinking solutions they need to surpass their business objectives.

Our team of advisory, tax and accounting specialists have decades of experience in the A&E sector and are actively involved in the industry's largest associations. We keep clients informed of regulatory, tax law and accounting updates and recommend strategies to meet new compliance requirements and mitigate tax obligations.

As a true partner with your business, we proactively identify ways your organization can contain costs, manage cash flow, improve internal controls, increase efficiencies and make confident decisions in any economic landscape.

Services include:

- Business advisory
- Audits, reviews and compilations
- Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) audits
- Tax planning and compliance
- Cash flow management
- Outsourced CFO
- Human Resources consulting
- Valuations and forensic accounting
- Technology consulting
- Operational reviews
- Sell-side and buy-side advisory
- Succession planning
- Find the Lost Dollars – business management assessment and training

For more information on how Grassi can help your A&E firm turn its goals into action, please contact Robert J. Brewer, A&E Practice Leader:

Robert J. Brewer, CPA, CCIFP
Partner, Architecture & Engineering Practice Leader
rbrewer@grassicpas.com | 516.336.2420